Following the growing popularity of the NFL in the UK, Hip Hop legends M1 dead Prez & Bonnot will be releasing 'Offense Defence' on the TBC 2015, an American Football themed music video.

Complemented by fast-paced American Football imagery, 'Offense Defence' combines a heavy, aggressive beat with M1's trademark snarling tone and relentless vocal flow. The video which was filmed in Italy features M1 and Bonnot dressed in Bergamo Lions apparel; an Italian American Football team reflecting Bonnot's Italian background.

The video comes at a time where American Football has become increasingly popular in the UK, with the last match selling out Wembley Stadium, and The Telegraph describing it as "one of the most engaging sports you'll see". The popularity of the sport has reached the point where London Mayor Boris Johnson is considering an NFL franchise in the UK.

M1 dead Prez & Bonnot recently featured on both Russia Today and BBC One Xtra with Charlie Sloth performing their single 'Sacrifice'. This was following remix of Time Travel featuring Busta Rhymes, Black Thought & General Levy. AP2P are also due to be interviewed by DJ Semtex as well as The Source magazine which gained notoriety through a feud between Eminem and it's former co-owner Benzino. The release of the video will coincide with the upcoming 2015 Super Bowl which is set to begin on 1st February with games set to take place at Wembley Stadium.
